

Dumb Charades event: The Biochemical society SJU.

The Biochemical Society at SJU orchestrated a memorable evening on 30th October, hosting a unique scientists/lab equipment dumb charades event. The gathering, a fusion of entertainment and educational engagement, witnessed an enthusiastic turnout of participants from the 1st to 3rd year, all eager to showcase their acting prowess and biochemistry knowledge.

The rules of the game were refreshingly simple - one participant at a time would act out a scientist or lab equipment, while the remaining team members attempted to decipher the representation. A correct guess resulted in a point, and the team with the highest points at the event's conclusion emerged as the victor.

The atmosphere buzzed with creativity and enthusiasm as teams delved into the challenge. Laughter reverberated across the room, indicating the enjoyment and camaraderie that filled the space.

While the competition was fierce, the triumphant individuals who clinched the top positions were:

1st Place: Anandika from 2nd year (BcBt combination)

2nd Place: Deboshree Datta from 1st year (BcZ combination)

3rd Place: Armaan from 3rd year (BBZ)

However, the event's true success lay in the collective joy experienced by all participants. The occasion transcended the confines of a competition, providing a fantastic platform for the community to unite, enjoy, and deepen their understanding of biochemistry.

The event's significance extended beyond the winners, as it fostered a sense of community among biochemistry enthusiasts. It served as a reminder that learning and enjoyment can go hand in hand, creating a space where knowledge is shared, and laughter is abundant.

A heartfelt thank you was extended to all participants for their lively involvement. Special recognition was also reserved for the event heads whose meticulous planning and execution ensured the success of this delightful and educational venture. The Biochemical Society at SJU proved once again that science and fun are a winning combination.

For the Images of the Dumb Charades event., kindly refer to the Photo Gallery:

<https://sju.edu.in/gallery/58>