

Research Methods in the Humanities

Dr Srinivas S V, Professor, Azim Premji University, delivered the lecture on Research Methods in the Humanities on 17th March 2023 at 3:30 PM in the MAGIS Block Conference Room on the 2nd Floor. He looked deeply into the changing methods in the Humanities from the time his research was conducted until today.

Prof Srinivas' work on fandoms was relatively new at the time and thus required him to come up with new mixed methods like objective analysis, collecting, collating, and organising data and thus, he spoke about the discipline of a researcher.

His talk concluded with a screening of a take on Michael Jackson's Thriller, and he spoke about how the 'eye' of the researcher must read the adaptation.
